Does regulation improve patient safety?

RQIA is the independent body responsible for monitoring and inspecting the availability and quality of health and social care services in Northern Ireland. Individuals working in health and social care services are regulated by nine different professional regulators.

This workshop will explore whether regulation can contribute to patient safety or whether it is just an additional burden on the health and social care sector.

Join our expert panel to discuss

- Is professional regulation supporting and driving change in health and social care organisations?
- Can regulation ever have a positive impact on patient safety?

- Is innovation stifled by regulatory burden?
- Can regulators ever strike the right balance - how do they get it right?

On the panel

- Colum Conway, Chief Executive, Northern Ireland Social Care Council
- Alan Walker, Head of Northern Ireland Affairs, General Medical Council
- Dr Jim Livingstone, Chair, Pharmaceutical Society of Northern Ireland
- Pauline Shepherd, Chief Executive, Independent Health & Care Providers
- Dr David Stewart, Acting Chief Executive, Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority
